

CMMC Compliance Services for Your Subcontractors

The Problem

Are you a Prime Contractor or an upper-tier contractor responsible for ensuring that your subcontractors are adhering to the requirements of subcontracting clauses, flow-down clauses, subcontracting plans, reporting and goals?

Is compliance with NIST 800-171 and its replacement, CMMC v2.0, a potential issue for your subcontractors?

Are you comfortable that your subcontractors are adequately addressing these cybersecurity requirements?

If these questions weigh on you – you are not alone and Vestige is here to help!

What's Needed

First and foremost, your subcontractors likely need increased awareness.

Increased awareness in such areas as:

- The applicability of DFARS 252.204-7012 (NIST 800-171) to the subcontractor;
- The requirements under DFARS 252.204-7019, 252.204-7020 and 252.204-7021 (the “Interim Rule”);
- The impact of CMMC v2.0 (as announced by the DoD on November 5, 2021);
- What it takes to become certified under CMMC;
- The anticipated timing that it will take most subcontractors to become certified; and
- Available resources that can help them achieve certification.
